

Ranch Stay, Hungary

Itinerary

You will be met on arrival in Budapest and transferred to the ranch.

Depending on your time of arrival, there may be time to be shown around the ranch and to ride.

The ranch offers four hours of riding for each day you are on holiday. If your flight times permit you may also ride for two hours either on the arrival or departure day.

The itinerary is flexible, but is typically as follows:

During your first session one of the trainers will run through the basics of Western horsemanship and depending on your level of experience, you can get the feel of your horse at walk, jog and lope. Perhaps set off on a short trail ride as an introduction to the surrounding countryside

On returning to the ranch, lunch will be served in the bar area or perhaps by the pool if the weather is nice. In the afternoon you could have a trail ride of approximately two hours through the national park and along rural tracks.

Your next day could be a longer ride through the forest and along sandy tracks to give you the opportunity to enjoy the forward going and responsive horses for which the ranch is renowned. Perhaps you will spot some of the local wildlife such as white-tailed deer, heron or wading birds.

Another trail ride could go into the beautiful Kiskunsagi countryside. Perhaps you will pass the bird station and the lake with its tall reeds or maybe the route will go through shady forest tracks.

On one day there may be an opportunity for an early morning carriage ride (extra cost payable locally) to the bird station. Here, the rangers will give you an insight into some of their work by catching, recording and ring marking some of the bird species found in the national park.

Forget the regulations of English style, this is Western riding and a relaxed position with a soft contact is called for.

If your room is needed for arriving guests, there will be somewhere to put your luggage and you can use the Wellness Suite to freshen up or shower before you leave.
